NOTE FOR: DCI

SUBJECT : Unauthorized Disclosures

I like your 7 November draft. It's much tougher than the first one, and I think that's appropriate.

I would introduce the idea somewhere into the paper that "CIA, on a number of occasions, has terminated the employment of individuals who have revealed only to family or friends far less sensitive information than is regularly appearing in our media." The very strong discipline I still find in our intelligence organizations cannot long survive the great difference between the way we handle violations of our security rules and the way others handle similar or more serious violations."

Second, I believe you should at least consider asking the President to take or approve some specific steps now to help us cope. The letter suggests a lot of areas he could move on, but we don't really ask.
